

I went with satellite radio because I was fed up with what broadcast radio stations were producing. I was fed up with the same songs played dozens of times a day, fed up with all types of advertisers screaming at me in commercials. I was fed up with their "stupid", opinionated, idiotic DJs. If I want just music, or just news or just sports with out stupid commercials and all the unnecessary talk then I should be allowed to have this service especially since I am willing to pay for it.
